

We thank the kind lady,
I refer to their respective ages.

In reply, I have no hesitation in stating opinion that the present system by no means does this important object; that the discretion, as regards the younger Children, is very imperfectly exercised, to the great prejudice of their health and to unnecessary waste of food; and that the modification of the existing practice, proposed in the letter of the Poor Law Board, is highly desirable. I have hence to suggest that in place of leaving the preparation
